STATE EXPLAINS CHILD WELFARE FUND AVAILABLE

A group of Adams County officials was in Harrisburg Friday for a briefing from state authorities on the opportunities for securing state funds here—along with 60 other counties in the state—for direct care of children through the Child Welfare Services.

The decision as to whether the county will accept the state funds, which would supplement federal and county funds already being used, will be made by the county commissioners after studies are completed and possibly after some recommendation is made by the advisory board of the Adams County Child Welfare Services.

To Improve Program State representatives made it clear Friday that the state funds being made available for this use now for the first time are intended to improve the program of child care rather than take any of the present financial load off the county.

Adams counties who attended Friday's session at Harrisburg included: County Commissioners E. D. Scott, J. Blaine Bushey and George E. Kane; their clerk, Clarence C. Smith; the Rev. Robert Knechel, representing the advisory board of the Child Welfare Services, and Robert McMullen, executive director of the child welfare services in Adams County.

The change in state policy from the previous plan of using most state child welfare funds for the care of youngsters in institutions to the new plan of giving state aid for direct care of welfare children in their own or foster homes was described. The group was told also of studies made by the government consulting service of the Institute of Local and State Government at the University of Pennsylvania on best means of distributing state funds. In July the Bureau of Child Welfare gathered child welfare cost figures from all of the counties of the state and found the counties spend 15 million dollars a year on that work.

The new state policy, the county group was told, will focus on paying a percentage of the cost of home care, clothing, medical and dental care and other related expenses. The full cost of caring for mentally retarded children in foster homes now will be borne by the state under the new plan. The state also will pay a percentage of the cost of professional personnel, previously met with federal funds. Some of the county's cost of keeping youngsters in institutions also will be covered.

The State Department of Welfare has made available $2,000,000 this year in state funds to be added to the $200,000 of federal funds which remain available for use in this state up to next June 1. Will Be Reimbursements As one of the "basic 21 counties" of the state which pioneered in child welfare work and have been receiving federal funds, Adams is one of the 61 counties of the state which can qualify for the new state aid. Of the total of $1,950,000 to be available for allotment, $300,000 will go for personnel subsidies and $1,650,000 for direct care, it was explained Friday.

The state aid will be distributed in the form of reimbursement for expenditures already made rather than for advance grants. The state will reimburse 75 percent on staff salaries and 54 percent of direct care expenditures.

Sgt. McKeon's Court Martial Sentence Cut; Stays As Private

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Thomas has decided to allow Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon to stay in the Marines, as a private, so McKeon can "build for himself a useful and honorable career."

McKeon, 31, said after he learned of Thomas' action yesterday "I will try to be the very best private in the Marine Corps." Thomas ordered cancellation of a bad conduct discharge and cut other penalties ordered for McKeon Aug. 3 after a court-martial had convicted the drill instructor of charges growing out of the drowning of six Marine recruits during a night disciplinary march at Parris Island, S.C., April 8.

Trial Was "Fair"

After reviewing the case, Thomas said he was convinced McKeon got a "fair trial in every respect." But the Navy secretary wiped out the bad conduct discharge, reduced McKeon's confinement from nine months to three, and set

MT. PLEASANT READY TO CLEAR BOOKS OF DEBT

Mt. Pleasant Twp. has $10,000 in the bank it would like to use to pay off a debt outstanding since 1924.

The township went $45,000 in debt October 1, 1924, to help pay for the portion of the Gettysburg-Hanover Rd. that passes between its borders. Under the proposal at that time, the state paid the larger share of the cost of the road, the county paid a portion and the township paid the balance.

The years passed and the township paid more than $65,000 in interest, and $30,000 of its debt. When the time came that the bonds could be paid off in 1954, 30 years after the original bonds were levied, the township still owed $45,000—but only had $30,000 in its sinking fund.

Was Renegotiated

At that time it renegotiated with the state teachers retirement board, the unit that held its 5 per cent bonds, and set up a plan whereby $5,000 could be paid October 1, 1955, $5,000 October 1, 1956, and $5,000 October 1, 1957. Or, according to the township board's secretary-treasurer, Louis W. Wagaman, Gettysburg R. 5, the $15,000 could be paid off earlier, if the money was available.

With the township now having 1,100 taxables, plus an assessed valuation of $12,681, a $5 per capita levy and a nine mill real estate rate have brought in sufficient cash to permit paying off the first $5,000 of the $15,000 in 1955, and the other $10,000 is now on hand, ready to pay off the entire remaining amount of the debt as soon as the state board gives the approval. So far that approval has not been forthcoming, Wagaman said Friday, but it is anticipated. He added that notice is being given that the township at least won't pay any interest on the bonds now that the money is available to pay them off.

ANTIETAM FOLK HERE TO DISCUSS ANNIVERSARIES

Antietam and Gettysburg met Friday afternoon to talk about the 100th anniversary of their battles coming up in '62 and '63. Representatives of the Washington County, Md., Historical Society met with members of the Gettysburg 100th Battle Anniversary committee and National Park officials here at a luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg Friday.

The meeting was called by the Washington County group to find out what Gettysburg has done so far in planning the observance of the 100th anniversary of the battle here as guidance in laying plans for the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Antietam.

To Follow Local Example There was a general discussion on plans for the next several years. It is anticipated that anniversaries of all major battles, at least, will be observed during the centenary of the civil war, 1961 to 1965.

Attorney Donald M. Swope, chairman of the Gettysburg 100th Anniversary committee, told the Antietam group that the local committee's first step was to secure a state commission to handle the observance. Agreeing, the Washington County committee said it will make plans to secure a Maryland commission for the 100th anniversary at Antietam. Myron Bloom, a member of the Maryland House of Delegates and also a member of the Washington County Historical Society Antietam committee, said he feels sure that Maryland's legislators will be willing to consider such a commission.

The group at the luncheon visualized a series of state commissions being set up over the coming several years to mark the observances in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, the Carolinas and other states in which the Civil War battles were fought. It was anticipated that the state commissions would work toward establishment of a federal commission to plan a series of anniversary observances that would last throughout the four years.

Discuss Coins, Stamps

Dr. J. Walter Coleman, Gettysburg National Park superintendent, promised to contact superintendents of the various Civil War battlefields to "find out what is being planned so far in the other states where the battlefields are located."

Eight Convicted Of Brink's Robbery; Can Get Life Terms

STEVENSON IN NEW ENGLAND; VISITS YALE

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson barnstormed into industrial New England today after appealing for the "egghead" vote and calming a noisy, demonstrative crowd at Yale University.

Stevenson's itinerary on the fifth day of his Eastern swing takes him through Rhode Island and Massachusetts, to Woonsocket, Blackstone, Springfield, Worcester and Milford.

The Democratic presidential nominee was happy over two events: 1. A speech interrupted by applause at least two dozen times, and 2. His handling of a demonstrative crowd of 6,000 students and others on the Yale campus.

Tomato Thrown

Stevenson and his entourage were besieged last night by what appeared to be every last one of Yale's 4,000 undergraduates, all in a festive mood. Some carried beer cans, others shouted "We want Ike" and "We want Adlai!" and at least one was wearing a raccoon coat.

A tomato sailed through the air and plopped on the seat of Stevenson's open car. He had already gone into the hall to address the overflow audience of about 3,000. After his formal speech in historic Woolsey Hall, Stevenson appeared outside. The mob, at fever pitch, pressed around him. There was some booing.

"Surely," Stevenson said over a public address system, "surely the students of Yale don't need a lesson in manners from a Princetonian."

A great shout went up. Even the crowd responded to that appeal to Yale pride. Laughter replaced boos. Then Stevenson appealed to their patriotism:

"If we didn't have more than one point of view, we wouldn't have a two party system. . . .

"The two party system is the essence of a democracy—and don't boo that, boys, don't boo that."

Stevenson heaped ridicule upon the Republican party in his formal talk.

He hit what he labeled as "soft soap slogans, gimmicks, bandwagons and all the other infernal machines of modern high-pressure politics in this age of mass manipulation."

Two Banks Taking Case To High Court

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two area banks Thursday carried to the State Supreme Court a protest against being denied approval for a merger.

The merger plan had been approved by the directors and the stockholders of the Dauphin Deposit and Trust Co. of Harrisburg and the Carlisle Trust Co. of Carlisle. It was to be done through an exchange of stock.

The state banking secretary, Robert L. Myers, disapproved the proposed merger because he said it was in effect establishment of a branch and that there was no need for a branch of Dauphin Deposit in Carlisle.

SEES BENEFIT FROM SEAWAY

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vice President Thomas Kennedy of the United Mine Workers says that the Lawrence Seaway, now under construction, might be of great benefit to the coal industry.

Kennedy said at the UMW's American coal industry might use the seaway to boost its fast-growing coal export trade.

He acknowledged that the UMW had fought construction of the seaway for a quarter century for two reasons:

The seaway might enable production of hydro-electric or water power competing with coal consumption for energy requirements. Coal could be imported from other countries to be heart of the nation.

But now, asserted Kennedy, the prospective demand for coal is such that there is little to fear from hydro-electric power development and no foreign nation seems to be in position to export coal in any quantity.

TAKES PICTURES IN COURT ROOM

WARREN, Pa. (AP)—News photographers are being permitted to take still pictures during a bank holdup trial in Warren County Court. It is believed only the second time in Pennsylvania that a trial judge has granted such permission.

Judge Alexander Flick said yesterday that "with modern photographic equipment, there's no noise or anything like that to upset anyone."

Judge Flick said he was following procedure of a trial earlier this year in Philadelphia when photographers were first permitted to take pictures in both cases, the use of flash equipment was banned.

Pending before the State Supreme Court is an appeal by employees of two western Pennsylvania newspapers from a contempt citation for the taking of pictures, against a court order, in the Westmoreland County Courthouse. The pictures were taken to test the validity of the ban issued by the County Court.

NEW CRITICISM OF STEVENSON BY IKE TODAY

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — New criticism of Adlai E. Stevenson's position on the military draft was expected today from President Eisenhower, who says the Democratic candidate's H-bomb statements cause "confusion . . . and misunderstanding."

Eisenhower reportedly was working on a second formal statement, similar to that on H-bomb issued yesterday, to deal with Stevenson's contention the draft should be ended "at the earliest moment consistent with the national safety."

Yesterday's statement outlined Eisenhower's views on Stevenson's repeated contentions the United States should take the lead in ending hydrogen bomb tests if other atomic powers follow a similar policy.

Can't Be Done

It isn't the first time Eisenhower has replied on either subject. He started in, as a matter of fact, in his first major speech of the campaign, a broadcast and televised address Sept. 19.

He is expected to take on the draft a position much the same as he assumed then, when he said: "We cannot prove wise and strong by hinting that our military draft might soon be suspended—even though every family naturally hopes for the day when it might be possible. This—I speak categorically—cannot be done under world conditions of today. It would weaken our armed forces. It would propagate neutralist sentiment everywhere. It would shock our allies who are calling upon their people to shoulder arms in our common cause."

As in yesterday's statement on hydrogen bomb tests, Eisenhower also can be counted on to repeat in his pronouncement on the draft that he is speaking as president and as the man charged by the constitution with "the defense and security of our nation."

In the statement yesterday, Eisenhower did not mention Stevenson by name. But he did quote Stevenson's comments as he delivered some unconvincing slaps.

He said he regretted the government's policy with respect to testing large-scale nuclear weapons had been made a campaign issue, adding:

"The manner in which the issue has been raised can lead only to confusion at home and misunderstanding abroad."

Eisenhower called the testing of nuclear weapons "an indispensable part of our defense program."

the entire matter cleared—it wants to enjoy the feeling of being completely out of debt after 32 years.

Early Speculation

Members of the township board of supervisors recall that when the bond issue was set up in 1924 the supervisors at that time felt that the money would be available to pay off the amount when the bonds matured 30 years later. A 4½ mill levy was established to bring money into the sinking fund.

"But," Wagman explained, "things changed after the program had been set up. Thirty-two years ago the township could tax such personal property as horses, cows, etc., and there seemed to be more than enough property to provide the money to pay the bonds. But a few years later the law was changed, the townships could not longer tax personal property and as a result the levy that had seemed sufficient was no longer large enough to meet the debt."

He credited the per capita tax of $5 with providing most of the funds to pay off the township's debt, and added that the supervisors plan to keep the levy in effect for a time so that the township will not only get out of debt but will also be able to get sufficient new machinery to do a better job of taking care of its roads, and get a little surplus ahead against future contingencies.

SAYS 3RD TERM AMENDMENT NOT ENTIRELY WISE

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Friday he does not regard as entirely wise the constitutional amendment that bars a third presidential term.

Eisenhower, making no attempt to apply his remarks to his own case, said he believes that by and large the people should be able to choose as president anybody they want, regardless of the number of terms.

He told a news conference that there have been objections that this might concentrate power in one individual. But he said he has the utmost confidence in the long-range judgment of the American people.

Most of his meeting with reporters was devoted, as can be expected these days, to politics. There were a few questions on domestic and foreign policy sprinkled in.

Enjoys Campaigning

Eisenhower, under questioning said he likes campaigning—that he likes to get out and see the people instead of just getting reports.

And, he said, he is on the road of truth and facts—not on the high road or low road.

This was an obvious jab at Democratic opponents who have been accusing the GOP of taking the low road at times during the 1956 political war.

Eisenhower also batted back at the Democratic presidential nominee, Adlai E. Stevenson, on the civil rights issue.

He said that in the armed forces, his administration ended desegregation by taking the bull by the horns. He did concede that the Democrats had done something in that direction. But he also said that there had been talk about the problem for all the 45 years he was in service.

Review By Mrs. Smoke

Mrs. George H. Thrush Jr. introduced the speaker, Mrs. Kenneth L. Smoke, who received her degree in library science from Columbia. Mrs. Smoke reviewed the book, "Profile of America," by Emily Davie which outlines our American heritage from the time Leif Erickson touched the American shore four hundred years before Columbus arrived until today with its atomic problems. She described the early days in Pennsylvania where religious freedom was granted to all and slavery was frowned upon by the Quakers. Mrs. Smoke told how witches were executed in New England in the 17th century and read the trial of "one Sarah Good in 1692."

"The practice of witch-hunting in New England in those early days," said the speaker, "reflected the moral struggle the settlers were undergoing at that time. Today we have another type of moral struggle, the atomic dilemma. This is the struggle of our generation."

Mrs. Lefever and Mrs. Reuning poured at the tea table which carried out the seasonal theme with an autumnal epergne designed with pears, apples, grapes, wheat and trailing ivy by Mrs. P. J. McGlynn. Mrs. Mark A. Eckert was chairman of the hostess committee.

Want Aid For Local Roads On Program

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania Home Rule Assn. wants the recently enacted Federal Highway Act amended to provide funds for improvement of local roads.

In a resolution adopted yesterday the association's executive committee said:

"Not $1 of the huge federal fund ($7 billion dollars) is to be spent on the rural state highways systems or the local road systems throughout the United States."

"Yet it is users of these local and rural road systems that will provide the major portion of the revenue under the federal aid act. Each class of public roads is entitled to a fair share of federal aid revenues for road improvement in relation to their importance to the traveling public."

Boy Scouts

Scouting provides the following things for our communities' boys and young men: A year around periodic contact service by a trained district scout executive to supply technical information and program helps necessary to carry on the Scouting and Cubbing programs; inter-unit activities such as scout rallies, Camp-O-Rees, first aid contests, etc., that stimulate and maintain boy interest and contribute to the character development and citizenship training objectives of scouting; encouragement of advancement of our scouts by maintenance of standards of efficiency and Courts of Honor that give dignified recognition to the scouts for their achievements and by presentation of badges of rank to scouts; training of leaders through training courses and conferences. Scouting is a movement, a method, tool of no value unless used skillfully by those who employ it, and the direct use of $200,000 worth of camp property by the Boy Scouts, Explorers and leaders.

Black Walnut District

In the Black Walnut District there are nine commissioners, 30 district committee members and 236 unit committee members, leaders, assistant leaders and den mothers who are proving scouting is for all boys of whatever race, color or creed. No matter whose boy he is, or where he is, or what he is doing, he is important. They realize that boys don't always behave as they should, but they believe every boy is basically a good boy—that he is a bundle of possibilities, and if loved, trusted and intelligently taught, he will likely become a good neighbor, a fine father, a loyal citizen and a faithful friend.

These ideals and work tie in directly with new Boy Scout program, "Onward for God and My Country," which is attempting to meet the demands and opportunities in the increasingly complex world in which our boys are living. It is the purpose of scouting to help every boy to "Be Prepared" in body, in skill, in spirit and as a member of a team—and further to give each boy further opportunities to develop physical fitness, self-reliance, obligation to God, personal responsibility, service, willingness to share and democratic living. This is significant to every citizen in the United States.

In the city of Gettysburg the following groups sponsor scouting units: The Presbyterian Church sponsors a cub pack; a group of citizens in Gettysburg sponsors a troop and a post; St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church has a cub pack and a scout troop, and St. James Lutheran Church sponsors a pack, troop and post. These units serve 319 cubs, scouts, explorers and leaders plus a professional scout, commissioners and district committee members, all of whom reside in Gettysburg.

Need $2,800

The plans for the coming year are: To participate in all council functions; to have a representative from each troop and post attend the national jamboree at Valley Forge in July; 75 per cent of the scouts and explorers stay one or more weeks at Camp Tuckahoe; a delegation to visit the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico; explorers to take part in the Canadian canoe expedition; provide training for the junior leaders in our troops, packs and posts; provide training for scoutmasters, cubmasters, post advisors, their assistants and den mothers; to use the Schiff Scout Reservation in Mendham, N. J., by the junior and adult leaders; at least 40 per cent of the scouts explorers to be 1st class scouts; a den-chief training conference; commissioner training conference; to help find sponsors for additional pack, troop and post in the city of Gettysburg; to have round-tables for all adult leaders in the various programs, this is training at its best and as up-to-date as the monthly theme is, and, finally, to have each leader understand his job so that he might become more effective in helping make more boys become better boys.

The need for money increased with the ever growing trend in Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Explorer Scouting. For the first time in its history the Black Walnut District of the Boy Scouts of America has a district scout executive. Permanent records are kept on file of each boy's advancement; the Council Camp is constantly being improved to provide a better program for scouts at reasonable rates; training will hit an all time high during the coming year, and plans to serve many more boys must be made and met. Out of a council budget of $61,000 the community's share is $2,800 plus. This is the minimum at which the program can operate this year.

Chief defense counsel Paul T. Smith castigated O'Keefe, who lived in the Roxbury section of Boston, as a "liar . . . a poor orphan of the storm . . . the Roxbury songbird."

When O'Keefe took the stand "there was the greatest dramatic production in the history of trials in the Commonwealth," Smith told the jury.

Today's Talk

PRaise
We live largely because of praise. If we were not appreciated, and people did not speak well of us, we would live a very lonely and unhappy life. I was reading from a little book by the late Holbrook Jackson, published a few years ago. It has a chapter on what authors think of other authors. They are so interesting that I give you a few!

Morley Roberts called "Far Away and Long Ago," by W. H. Hudson, "the supreme record in all literature of a boy's life and experience." I have read few books that have given me such satisfaction.

James Russell Lowell, in a letter to Charles Eliot Norton, said of Tennyson that he had been "the greatest artist in words we have had since Gray."

D. H. Lawrence called Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter" "the most perfect American work of art." And Lawrence said of Melville's "Moby Dick" that it was "the greatest book of the sea ever written." T. B. Macaulay called "Don Quixote," by Cervantes, "the best novel in the world."

Landon said of Charles Dickens that "no mortal man ever exerted so beneficial and extensive an influence over the human heart." Ralph Waldo Emerson said of Thomas Carlyle that he had "an imagination such as never rejoiced before the face of God, since Shakespeare." This was praise surely that could last a long time!

T. B. Macaulay said of Jane Austen's novels that "there are in the world no compositions which approach nearer to perfection." James Boswell wrote to a friend telling him that his own book about Dr. Samuel Johnson would prove to be "the most interesting book" that he had ever read. My own love of this book could say no more. It is an immortal classic!

It is a fine thing to be praised by your contemporaries. Sincere praise is beyond price.

THE FUTURE
One has to live for many years

And go through weeks of work and sport

Before to him the truth appears:
However long, his life is short.

There's much that we shall never do,
There's much that we shall never learn;

And there are volumes old and new
Whose pages we shall never turn.

And wise it is that this is so,
No bitterer fate for man could be

Than learning all there is to know
And solving every mystery.

'Tis not the long established truth
That keeps men happy and content;

There must be something left for youth
To find and master and invent.

EXPECT RUSSIA TO USE VETO IN SUEZ DISPUTE

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Egypt and Russia are expected to hit back hard next week at the Western proposal for U.N. endorsement of the London conference plan for international control of the Suez Canal.

Diplomats of the two countries declined comment after they heard the proposal yesterday in the 11-nation Security Council. But there was widespread belief in U.N. circles that Russia would use the veto when the issue comes to a vote.

Egypt already has said it will not agree to international control of the canal. The Soviet Union has supported Egypt's nationalization of the waterway.

Closed Door Sessions
The Suez debate appeared headed for closed-door sessions as soon as Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi, Secretary of State Dulles and others have made opening statements.

Delegates planned to continue their private talks over the weekend. Dulles conferred with Fawzi for a half-hour last night. The Secretary of State was to receive an honorary degree at Williams College this morning but was expected to resume his talks here later in the day.

The next council meeting will be held Monday at 9:30 a.m. when Fawzi is expected to lead off. The opening round probably will end by Tuesday night and then, a French spokesman predicted, there will be two or three days of private sessions.

Want Frank Talks
The closed meetings, proposed yesterday by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and backed by Dulles, are intended to switch the spotlight away and make it easy for frank talks with Egypt.

One British diplomat said the Western powers want to find out whether Egypt has any new proposals to offer. They think that, if she has, she can do it better in private talks.

A French spokesman said: "We think it will provide a better climate — a possibility of talking more freely."

Ask U. N. Backing
There was no immediate reaction from Fawzi on the idea of closed meetings, but a member of the Egyptian delegation indicated a coolness toward the proposal.

The British-French resolution, presented by Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau called for full U.N. backing of the proposal made by the first London conference in mid-August for international control of the 103-mile waterway.

It asked the council to recommend that "Egypt should cooperate by negotiations in working out, on the basis of these proposals, a system of operation to be applied to the Suez Canal."

It also asked the council to urge Egypt to cooperate with the Suez Canal Users Assn. pending the outcome of the negotiations.

SERIES SHORTS

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—With a 2-0 World Series lead before today's third game, Brooklyn Manager Walt Alston can be pardoned for being in an optimistic mood. . . . But Alston has a reason behind everything. . . . "Our hitting is at its peak right now," he said today before sending his charges onto the Yankee Stadium turf, "and that's the only thing we lacked all year. . . . This team very seldom beats itself in the field."

Quickie Interview with New York Yankees' starting pitcher Whitey Ford (remember him?): "I feel okay trying again after two days rest. . . . After all I wasn't around long Wednesday (three innings). . . . When I go nine innings, the day after I've pitched, my arms feel pretty good. . . . If it's going to feel bad at all, it happens on the second day. . . . Usually I'm ready to go."

It asked the council to recommend that "Egypt should cooperate by negotiations in working out, on the basis of these proposals, a system of operation to be applied to the Suez Canal."

It also asked the council to urge Egypt to cooperate with the Suez Canal Users Assn. pending the outcome of the negotiations.

Gettysburg Junior High won its initial victory by scoring in the final minute of play to defeat Washington Township 7-0 at Waynesboro Friday afternoon in a south Penn Junior High League game.

The passing combination of Nicky Nichols to Jimmy Townsend sparked the Gettysburg 52-yard touchdown drive. One pass was good for 24 yards but the locals were set back 15 yards on a penalty. Another Nichols-Townsend aerial picked up 17 yards to put the ball on the 26.

Washington Township drew a 15-yard roughing-the-passer penalty to place the ball on the 9. Nichols then fired to Townsend on the 1 from where Dick Chuck crashed over. Chuck also added the point on a line plunge.

Stopped On Fumble

Coach Ray Ellis' outfit made the only other serious bid for a score when they marched to the Bulldogs' 4 yard mark in the opening period but lost the ball via a fumble.

Shocked Yankees, After Worst Mauling In 24 Years, Return To Stadium Today; Ford, Craig Pitch

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Shocked by their worst mauling in a quarter of a century of World Series competition, the pitching-poor New York Yankees banked their hopes today on the left arm of their mound ace, Whitey Ford, and the right about turn to their own park, spacious Yankee Stadium.

Brooklyn's devastating 13-8 slaughter of a Series record of seven Yankee pitchers marked the first time since 1932 that any team has ever swept the first two games from the haughty Yankees. Twenty-four years ago, the Yankees lost the first two Series games to the New York Giants . . . and went on to lose the next two.

Should right-hander Roger Craig, manager Walter Alston's pitching nominee for the third game, carry on the Dodgers' streak, it is highly possible another four-game sweep will engulf the Yankees. For Sal Maglie, the Cinderella Man, may have his 39-year-old arm all oiled up Sunday.

Casey's Last Hope

Ford appears to be Casey Stengel's last hope. The little lefty, who was battered by the Brooklyn Dodgers twice last year—both times in Yankee Stadium—must win to get the Yankees back in the running. Stengel knows this better than anyone. That's why he decided to pitch his No. 1 man despite only a two-day rest.

"No use holding Ford back any longer," Casey muttered in the quiet of the losers' clubhouse after they had suffered their worst humiliation in any fall Classic. "He should be ready. He didn't pitch much in the first game and he got that day of rain."

Craig Won In '55

Whitey, 19-6 for the regular season, lasted three innings Wednesday, allowing six hits and five runs, including two home runs. This was Craig's second Series assignment. He started the fifth game in 1955 and was credited with the victory although he lasted only six innings. His season record was 12-11.

A banner crowd of some 64,000 was expected to attend the first game in the American League club's park. The weatherman predicted a fair and sunny afternoon with the temperature about 65 degrees at starting time of 1 p.m. EDT.

Dodgers Favorite Now

Brooklyn's two convincing triumphs have caused the price-makers to make a quick switch in the odds. The Dodgers are now 13 to 5 favorite to win the Series. The Yankees had opened an 8 to 5 choice. For Friday's game, the Yankees ruled a 7 to 5 choice.

An Ebbets Field throng of 38,217 saw something happen in a series game that never had happened before. The Yankees blew an early 6-0 lead after kayoing 27-game winning Don Newcombe, Brooklyn's biggest winner since Dazzy Vance rolled up 28 victories in 1924. Not since the 1929 Philadelphia Athletics came from behind an 8-0 deficit to defeat the Chicago Cubs 10-8 did any club dissipate such a huge lead.

Dodgers Stormed Back

The seemingly beaten Brooks, led by Pee Wee Reese, Duke Snider and Gil Hodges, not only stormed back with a six-run tying outburst in the second, but continued to hammer away with a run in the third and two more in each of the fourth, fifth and eighth innings to roll up the big-

HINNANT LOSES TO ANTHONY; ASKS REMATCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clarence Hinnant, loser of a 10-round split decision last night to high-ranking light heavyweight Tony Anthony, said today he thought a rematch was in order—but Anthony wasn't interested.

"We've got that under our belt," said Ernie Braca, manager of the 21-year-old Anthony, and the ew York fighter agreed.

Anthony, rated No. 7 light heavyweight contender by Ring Magazine, conceded he was "caught good" by a hard right that staggered him for an automatic 8-count in the second round of the Capitol Arena encounter. But, Braca said, "We thought we won the fight."

Referee For Anthony

Hinnant, a 23-year-old Washington puncher, contended he outscored his opponent, who finished strong after a faltering start. And, Hinant said, if there is a rematch "I'll take him next time."

Anthony outweighed Hinant 171½ to 170.

while Judge Benny Apestein gave it to the New Yorker, 95-93. Judge Joe Bussa gave Hinant the nod, 94-90. The Associated Press scored it 96-94 for Hinant.

ALL - MICHIGAN TILT TOPS GRID CARD FOR TODAY

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

The Associated Press A couple of backyard brawls that could be highly significant in deciding national as well as regional football championships and a batch of intersectional contests that should be good gate attractions in spite of unusual pairings mark the collegiate program Saturday.

The 49th meeting between the University of Michigan and the school that used to be "the Aggies" but now is mighty Michigan State University, probably is No. 1 on a well-filled schedule. At least its big enough to draw more than 101,000 spectators.

Then comes the 20th meeting between Duke of the Atlantic Coast Conference and its mountaineer neighbor, Tennessee. The intrastate strife between Notre Dame and Indiana might be a third game of equal importance.

UCLA, Miami, Utah Win

The major intersectional games, many of them born in recent years as a result of the close ties between the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conferences, include Ohio State-Stanford, Iowa-Oregon State, Wisconsin-Southern California, Washington-Illinois, California-Pittsburgh, Missouri-Southern Methodist, Northwestern-Tulane, Baylor and Mississippi-Houston.

UCLA, Miami, Utah, George Washington and Denver scored victories Friday night to get the collegiate weekend under way.

UCLA capitalized on a last-quarter fumble to beat Oregon 6-0 for the Bruins' 17th straight Pacific Coast Conference victory. George Washington also capitalized on miscues to upset Hardin-Simmons 13-7. Miami tumbled Boston College 27-6. Utah walloped Brigham Young 41-6 and Denver took Montana 22-13.

Close One For Duke

The importance of the Michigan State-Michigan tilt at Ann Arbor is pointed up by the fact that State's Spartans are rated second only to Oklahoma in this week's Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters and Michigan is No. 5.

Duke was somewhat deflated by South Carolina in its first game. Tennessee, with Johnny Majors at the helm, walloped Auburn and gained the No. 9 national rating. This game figures to be another close one. Duke still is tough and has beaten the Vols the last four years.

Notre Dame, upset by Southern Methodist in its opener, has had two weeks to recover and the assignment against an Indiana team which hasn't settled into stride appears comparatively easy.

A glance at the box scores show the Yankee hurlers have issued 13 bases on balls, 11 of them in yesterday's game for a series one-game record. Along with the bases on balls have come 21 Dodger hits and 19 runs. The combined earned run average of the eight pitchers is 6.75.

Turley May Get Call

Whitey Ford, pounded from the box in the first game after yielding six hits and five runs in three innings, comes back today in the first game at more spacious Yankee Stadium in an effort to get the American Leaguers into the win column. The southpaw with a 19-6 regular season record, is Stengel's ace and if he can't win in his own ball park, then the aura of invincibility that has surrounded the Yanks for many years will have completely disappeared.

Only Bob Grim, who never has been moved up to the promise he showed as a freshman in 1954 and the seldom-used Rip Coleman, a southpaw, have not been used by Stengel. Bob Turley impressed Stengel enough in pitching hitting ball for one and one-third innings in two games that he may get the call in Sunday's game.

Field Trials Open At Hunterstown

Approximately 70 bird dogs are taking part in the field trials of the York Pointer and Setter Club being held today and Sunday at the Charles Baird farm, Hunterstown.

The trials, which started this morning at 8 o'clock, are expected to continue until dark with a similar program to be held Sunday. About 200 acres of the Baird property are being used.

Warriors Play Improved

Ball But Lose 21-0 Tilt

To Unbeaten Mechanicsburg

Scoring all its points in the first half, Mechanicsburg High School handed Gettysburg High School's gridriders its fourth defeat in five games, 21-0, at Mechanicsburg Friday evening.

The Warriors, scoreless in its five games this season and with only a tie with Shippenburg on the credit side of the ledger, showed a better offensive than in most games but was unable to score.

Cats Start Fast

The Wildcats didn't wait long to get their first touchdown as Ray Zimmerman, 160-pound sophomore fullback, cracked over from three yards out. Walk Fake added the extra point with a perfect placement.

On the first play of the second quarter, Mechanicsburg scored again as Don Humes dashed 29 yards down the middle. Fake again added the extra point.

Mechanicsburg was knocking on the goal line minutes later. Zimmerman drove over from the nine-yard line. Rich Rohrer plunged over for the extra point.

Warriors Tighten

Coach John Frederick's Wildcats tried desperately to add to their margin in the second half. Their passing attack, which clicked in the first half to open Gettysburg's defenses, failed after the intermission. The Warriors big line, composed mainly of green material, rose up to the occasion to harass the Mechanicsburg ball carriers throughout the second half.

Ken Mummert, Gettysburg speedster and a junior, threatened with some fine running around the ends but was unable to break loose. The Warriors never posed a serious threat.

Offensively, Coach Howard Shoemaker's gridriders probably flashed their finest form of the season as they collected eight first downs.

Coach Shoemaker, who had been confined to his bed for several days during a bout with the virus, directed the Warriors Friday night.

Gettysburg High School will play host to Middletown on Friday night. Middletown scored a 20-7 win over Muhlenberg Township at Middletown Friday evening.

Littlestown Scores Three Times In Third Period To Defeat Dallastown 32-13

Littlestown's undefeated Thunderbolt gridriders scored three times in the third period after being held to a 13-13 deadlock at half time to lace Dallastown 32-13 in a Laurel Conference game at Littlestown Friday evening before a large crowd.

It was the fifth straight win for the Bolts.

Both teams tallied in the first period. Dallastown scored after marching 60 yards following the opening kickoff, two penalties and a 25-yard pass, Keckler to Newhouse, accounting for most of the yardage. In two plays Barry Gohn crashed over from the five. Keckler booted the point.

The Bolts came right back and scored on seven plays. Gene Miller ran for 30 yards in the 65-yard drive to the Wildcat 28. Kelly Pottoff passed to Jack Busbey on the 3 and then Miller booted over. A plunge for the point failed.

Pottoff Goes 47

Coach Wib Gobrecht's team moved ahead 13-6 early in the second period. Pottoff racing 47 yards for the first of his three tallies. Miller booted the placement.

A 67-yard pass-play from Keckler to Klinedinst on the Dallastown 40 from where the latter streaked 60 yards produced the tying points for the Wildcats in the second frame. Keckler's kick for the point was blocked.

On the opening play of the second half Keckler kicked off to Littlestown. The Wildcat quarterback suffered a fractured right knee when he was struck by a Littlestown blocker. He was taken to the Warner Hospital and later was transferred to the York Hospital.

Pottoff took the second half kickoff and ran 77 yards before being dropped on the Dallastown 13. On 10 plays Miller went over from the 10 and then added the point on another line stab.

A recovered fumble on the Dallastown 30 set the stage for the fourth Littlestown score. Miller ran to the 10-yard line, Pottoff to the 5 and then the latter went over. Miller was stopped on his run for the point.

Don Newcombe In Fight On Parking Lot

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers' pitcher Don Newcombe was involved in a fight with a parking lot attendant after being knocked out of the box by the New York Yankees yesterday.

The attendant, Michael Brown, 37, said he asked the big pitcher: "Why is it when things get tough you always fold up?"

Police said Newcombe left with a left to Brown's stomach. Patrolman Ross Karnbach, on duty for the Series at Ebbets Field, broke up the fracas and started to take both men to the police station a few blocks away.

Both Apologized

Patrolman Karnbach said both men cooled off on the way and apologized to each other.

After Newcombe left for his Islen, N.J. home, however, Brown appeared at the station with Attorney Sidney B. Levitt. He was referred to Magistrate's Court, which will not be open until Monday. Levitt said he would ask that a summons be issued for Newcombe's arrest.

The big pitcher, who was blasted for a bases-loaded home run by Yogi Berra in the second inning of yesterday's 13-8 Brooklyn victory, refused to discuss the incident.

Brown, however, gave his version of the fisticuffs:

"Newcombe and his brother were coming out of the ball park and going towards their station wagon. I hollered to him: 'What's the matter, Newk? A little competition too much for you? Do you fold up?'"

"He called me a couple of foul names and with that he punched me. Then somebody stopped him. He accused me of razzing him all season and I said I only did it twice before. He said my voice sounded like the same fellow. I told him he was wrong."

CONTENDERS FOR PRO GRID CROWN TO CLASH

By MIKE RATHER

Four of the surprise claimants to the National Football League crown clash this weekend in battles that should separate the likely rulers and the early-season pretenders.

One contest, involving the Baltimore Colts and the Detroit Lions, co-holders of first place in the Western Conference along with the Los Angeles Rams, is scheduled for tonight at Baltimore's Municipal Stadium.

Sunday two of the leaders in the Eastern Division, the New York Giants and the Chicago Cardinals meet in Chicago.

Big Names Involved

The Colts upended the title favorites last week, defeating the Chicago Bears, 28-21 on the pin-point passing of quarterback George Shaw and the line-backing of former All-American Alan (The Horse) Ameche. The Lions, last year's cellar dwellers will pit their veteran quarterback Bobby Layne against sophomore Shaw.

Layne, beset by injuries last year, was instrumental in Detroit's 20-16 victory over the Green Bay Packers. Injured in the first half, Layne came back late in the game to kick a field goal and score the deciding touchdown.

The Cards bring the amazing toe of Pat Summerall into the meeting with the Giants, who easily outscored the San Francisco 49ers in their opener, 38-21. Summerall booted three field goals to score all the Chicago points as the Cards upset the league champion Cleveland Browns, 9-7. The Giants led by fullback Mel Triplett, who accounted for three touchdowns against the 49ers, should provide the answer to the question — are the Browns weak or the Cards improved?

The rest of the Saturday scheduled lines up like this: Cleveland moves into Pittsburgh, which surprised the Washington Redskins under a 30-13 onslaught. Washington is at Philadelphia, which bowed to the Rams, 27-7 last week.

Tomorrow the Rams meet their coast rival at San Francisco in what should be a test of air power versus running power. The Rams made good use of Norm Van Brocklin and second-string quarter Bill Wade to outdistance the Eagles while the 49ers base their attack more along the ground.

The annual contest between the Bears and the Packers which has stretched over a period of 35 years and 74 games concludes Sunday's action. The Bears lead the series with 43 wins, 25 losses and six ties.

TD In Final 35 Seconds Gives Biglerville 6-6 Deadlock With West York

An intercepted pass by Nelson Weber, Biglerville back, was the key play as the Cannons came from behind in the final 35 seconds to score a touchdown and gain a 6-6 deadlock with West York in a Laurel Conference game played Friday evening on the Biglerville gridiron before a large crowd.

BUILDING AND FARM

One Of Best Agricultural 4-H Clubs In The County Has Youngest President, Jon Newman

Jon Orville Newman thinks he'll stick with pigs — even though he's stuck with strawberries.

Jon, who at 11 is the youngest 4-H club president in the county, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville H. Newman, Littlestown R. 2, switched from pigs, his 4-H project a year ago, to strawberries this year and found strawberries not half as much fun as swine.

However strawberries pay off the second year rather than the first, so he plans to continue with the strawberries again next summer, but he also expects to raise a pig or two — for the fun of it.

A 4-H Team

Jon and his parents make up a 4-H team, that the county agents praise highly.

There was no 4-H agriculture club in the Frogtown area two years ago, but there were a number of boys within a half mile radius of the Mt. Joy Twp. community.

The county farm agents, hoping to establish a club in the section, asked about among the parents. There seemed unanimous opinion concerning the best leader possible — Mrs. Orville Newman. Mrs. Newman agreed to take over the leadership and the club was started with seven boys, three of them ones who came over from the Brushstown club to help get things started.

Praise For Club

This summer the club for which Mrs. Newman is leader has 16 members, most living within a half-mile of the Newman home, some living as much as five miles away.

The county agents have many things to praise about the club which started out as the Littlestown 4-H Agriculture Club and this year changed its name to the Southern Adams 4-H club.

County Agent Frank S. Zettle notes that the club has the best order of any at its meetings, that its meetings follow parliamentary procedure more closely than most clubs.

Parents Big Help

Assistant County Agent J. David Naugle expresses his admiration for the club in another way: "I don't think there's a club anywhere that has such excellent cooperation from its parents." Naugle explains that Mrs. Newman is the local leader for the club. Her husband holds no title but actually serves as an assistant local leader "and truthfully I think most of the other parents could be classed as assistant local leaders as well. Whenever there is anything to do, all that is needed is a phone call and any of the parents take over and do it when needed."

Robert Gitt, Littlestown R. D., is the assistant local leader but Naugle explains, "Active as Bob is, and he is one of the most active of the assistant local leaders in the county, this area has such active parents that everybody seems to be an assistant leader."

Likes Club Camping

Members of the Southern Adams Club carry almost a complete line of projects, some have corn, some bees, some vegetable gardens, one has rabbits, another pigs, and President Jon has his strawberries.

"It's more fun that way," Mrs. Newman says. "Where you have a lot of projects as we have everyone

Build Room Divider With Modern Piano

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

If the youngsters are tearful because there's no room for a piano in your house, here's a solution: Use it as a room divider.

One home I visited recently had made a carport into a music room to suit the needs of talented youngsters. In that room two pianos are placed back-to-back.

Everyone doesn't have room for development or money for that project. But a single piano might be used as a dividing line between two rooms, perhaps a dinette and a living room.

Planter Unit

Here's an arrangement designed by W. W. Kimball: The piano has a planter unit that matches the piano, placed at its back. Make it this way:

Use 1-inch lumber. Uprights, shelves and planter bottom should be 1 x 6's. End uprights might be cut 2 inches shorter than the piano. Center upright is about 11½ in. shorter than end pieces so top edge of the 1 x 12 in. planter front board is even with the end-piece tops.

Six shelves may be cut to fit between end pieces and center upright. Check their length by laying out end pieces and planter front on your floor to see they are square, then measure shelf lengths.

Make the planter back 1 x 12 in. long and cut it to match the front panel. The planter bottom should be 1 x 6 in. lumber sawed ¼ in. wide to fit snugly between front and back panels.

Assemble planter-shelf unit by building the planter box first. Nail end pieces to front and back pieces and to the bottom piece. Then add center upright and shelves by toenailing where shelves join center upright or by fastening them in place with metal corners.

Nails And Glue

Use finishing nails and glue in the final assembly, setting the heads of the nails below the wood surface and filling in the depressions with wood putty.

Attractive front and back panels of the planter may also be made of tempered hardboard in place of 1 x 12 lumber. When using hardboard, cut the planter bottom ½ in. narrower than the end pieces and nail wooden cleats to the inside of the end pieces. Then nail the hardboard panels to the edges of the cleats and bottom piece.

Made Of Metal

The planter itself may be made of galvanized sheet metal. A local tinsmith should be able to meet your specifications. Or as an alternative line the planter with asphaltum paint (roofing asphalt) and line it with heavy aluminum foil.

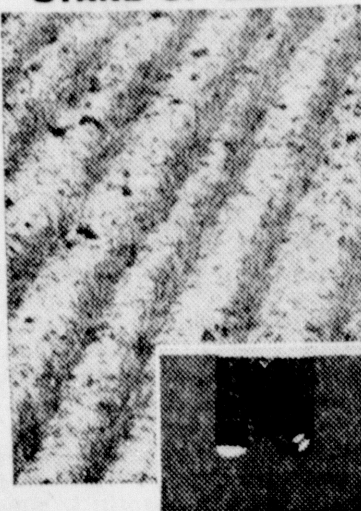

Fasten the planter shelf to the piano with screwhooks and screw eyes, or small screen hooks. Drive the hooks into the piano back and screw the eyes into the inside faces of the endpiece just below where they will be noticeable.

Finish the assembled planter-shelf to match (or contrast) with the piano color. If the piano is a blond or of the limed-oak variety, use a shellac over a thin coat of buff-colored flat paint to match it.

These days there is a trend to painting the piano to harmonize with room decor. Bright red, shocking pink, Bermuda blue, apple green, as well as other decorator shades, lifted perhaps from a hue in the rug, drapery or upholstery pattern may really set a room off like nothing else.

Add a bouillon cube to water in which you're boiling rice — for tangy flavor.

County Agent Zettle Urges Farmers To Cull Dairy Cows Before Barn-Feeding Begins

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

Is your supply of feed critically low for the barn-feeding period ahead? Or do you have non-paying boarders in your herd? If so, it will pay you to cull dairy cows.

Beef prices have advanced considerably in many areas, and as a result, prices paid for cull cattle have been strengthened.

For greatest salvage value, sell culled animals before they reach the skin and bone canner stage. Thus, cows should be marketed while they still fall in the cutter grade. Many of the potential culs are now in good flesh, especially in fall-freshening herds.

Some dairymen feel that a cow must produce at least 350 lbs. of butterfat before she is making enough return above the cost of milk production to justify keeping her. However, more and more dairy farmers are culling at the 400 lbs. level of production. One 450 lbs. producer can return nearly as much as two 350 lbs. cows. Thus, high production per cow is necessary for efficient dairying.

Farmers who are extremely short of feed should remember that a poor producer will consume just as much roughage as a profitable cow. Dairymen with a scant feed supply must certainly consider rigid culling this fall.

With grain and hay prices on the increase, this is the opportune time to cull. Weed out the low producers, the shy breeders, and those cows that are chronically afflicted with mastitis, milk fever, or detosis. And, if feed is in ample supply, the culs can be replaced with more profitable animals.

Make It Easy For Hens To Eat

If pullets were accustomed to feeding from low hoppers and standing on the ground to eat from the hoppers while on range, it may be advisable to bring in a hopper of this kind when the pullets are housed. This will give them something familiar to feed from while getting used to other feeding equipment in the pen.

It may be advisable in some cases to try lowering the hoppers closer to the floor. There has been a tendency recently on the part of poultrymen keeping flocks to place the hoppers right on the litter, or to provide only short legs so the pullets can stand on the litter to eat. Very little litter will be scratched into these hoppers with the short legs.

If poultrymen use the built-up litter method there will not be excessive quantities of litter on the floor to be kicked into the hoppers. Since chickens scratch away from the light there will be less litter kicked into hoppers if they are placed perpendicular to the windows. Placing hoppers in this position also allows better distribution of light, and permits a longer feeding time.

Operate Corn Picker Safely

Safe operation of a corn picker requires a high degree of skill and more than a small amount of common sense.

It won't be long before corn-pickers are again rumbling through fields. Remember that a modern corn picker can whisk a 10 foot stick through its snapping rolls in one second. Then think what it could do to a hand or an arm.

Thousands of fingers, hands and arms are lost each fall in these harvesting implements. National Safety Council records show that corn picker accidents are very costly and occur all too frequently.

Here are some of the rules for safe picker operation:

1. Stop the picker before oiling, adjusting, or unlogging. Make "shutting off the power" a habit every time you leave the tractor seat.

2. Keep shields in place. Never operate the machine without safety shields. Use tractor engine shields for fire prevention on mounted pickers.

3. Dress for the job. Always wear close fitting clothing that is warm and comfortable. "Extra thumb" gloves are extra dangerous.

4. Watch out for falls. Allow no close on the machine with you and see to it that you have a firm footing when climbing on and off the equipment.

5. On the highways use a red flag mounted up high to warn motorists of your slow moving vehicle. Use lights and obey the traffic rules.

Liven Nursery Screen With Plastic Fabric

A major necessity for any nursery is a sturdy screen that's easy to keep clean, to shield crib or bathnette from drafts.

It's easy to transform a dingy old screen into a gay decorative asset for baby's room, by covering it with one of the new plastic printed fabrics in whimsical nursery designs. The fabric is sold by the yard, and may be used for playpen pads, crib bumpers and other uses.

To cover a screen, measure accurately and cut two pieces of fabric for each panel, one for each side. Cut fabric about a half-inch narrower than the panels, so that they may be held firmly in place by strips of colored adhesive tape which will cover not only the edge of the fabric and rim of the screen, but will stick along the edge of each panel as well.

It's the work of only a few minutes to cut the fabric and tape in place.

Although a cattle country, Nevada is now an importer of beavers because of increased population.

PA. FARMERS' CASH RECEIPTS UP 3 MILLION

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers' cash receipts in Pennsylvania rose by nearly three million dollars in the first seven months of this year compared to the like period of 1955, the Agriculture Department reports.

The Pennsylvania total for the January-July period was $421,855,000 against $418,948,000 for the corresponding seven months of 1955, the report showed.

The increase was in line with the national trend, as reported by the department. It said farmers' cash receipts totaled approximately $17,000,000,000 for the first eight months of 1956, two per cent better than for the corresponding period of last year.

Volume Made Difference
Prices received by farmers during the eight-month period averaged two per cent below the corresponding 1955 average but the volume of marketings was heavier.

The increase in Pennsylvania farmers' cash receipts in the first seven months of this year was accomplished despite a decrease in income from crops.

Crop cash receipts totaled only $92,144,000 in January-July compared to $100,026,000 for the seventh-month period a year before. Responsible for the increase in total cash receipts was a boost in income from livestock and livestock products from $318,922,000 to $329,711,000.

Net Income Up
Cash receipts for Pennsylvania farmers for July alone this year were $62,148,000, an increase of approximately $2,500,000 over last year.

Average realized net income for a Pennsylvania farm in 1955 was $1,500, an increase over the $1,505 total of 1954. The highest average in the last five years was the $1,931 reported for 1951.

The 1955 Pennsylvania average is considerably below the average of $2,101 for nine north Atlantic

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — Sylvania Electric Products, Inc. broke ground Thursday for a new multi-million dollar plant.

Officials said the two-story plant will provide 190,000 square feet of floor space. It will be at least a year before it is completed. Some operations at two other Sylvania plants here are to be transferred to the new plant. It is not expected the company's total employment will be increased much, if at all.
